City Administrator’s Business

City Administrator Collins said he would like to clear up some issues that were discussed at a recent Mayoral forum about the city’s budget. One of the issues had to do with the reserve funds being borrowed funds. He said this is not the case, and the reserve funds are actually cash deposits generated from sales tax revenue, business license, general fund, and water and sewer revenues. As of today, the reserve funds on the general fund are $2,001,000; the water and sewer is $700,000; the general fund is $1.9 million in operating funds; and water and sewer operating funds is $325,000. The health insurance has an adjusted balance of $435,000. He said there was also a question brought up about the location of bond money for future projects, such as capital improvements and those funds are in a separate account at Regions Bank and not a city owned bank account and they are available and accessible for our capital projects. Any increase we have had in business license, sales tax and the water and sewer revenues have gone directly into these reserve accounts.

He said Senator Reed spoke a few minutes ago about a bill that would allow businesses to continue to receive certain funds from the state in the event of a natural disaster so that those businesses will continue to operate. Three years ago before the April 27th tornado, the city purchased insurance on our largest sales tax providers in the city, to ensure that if a natural disaster did occur, that any lost revenue would be covered by that policy if a natural disaster were to take those revenues away.

There was a question about the city’s debt, and how we were going to pay for certain things when they come due. He said when the city did refinancing in 2009 and 2012, it included leveled refunding for the debt service, which means the payment stays the same through 2029 and will conclude in 2029. The payments are approximately $1,247,000 on the general fund, and the water and sewer fund is $2.7 million and will also be conclude in 2029. He said this refinancing resulted in a total interest savings to the city of approximately $6 million, and added that the city should be debt free in 2029.

There has been some perception, that when the city purchased vehicles in the past three years that we have added to our fleet, when actually we have reduced the fleet by eleven (11) vehicles. The vehicles that were replaced were worn out, some with 273,000 miles on them. To put it in perspective, Mr. Collins said he actually got a phone call in the middle of the night a few years ago and was told that a police unit broke down while transporting an inmate, so it was imperative these vehicles be replaced. He stated that the new vehicles were purchased with cash and not borrowed money.

He thanked the current administration for their efforts to ensure that the public safety employees have good operating equipment and vehicles especially during emergency situations like that of the April 27th tornado. He said it is far more valuable to provide services to citizens in emergency situations than to debate how much money was spent on the emergency vehicles/equipment at a political forum.
City Administrator Collins asked that the September 3rd council meeting be adjusted due to the Labor Day holiday.

Motion by Pro Tem Logan, Second by Councilman Harper to adjust the September meeting schedule to Tuesday, September 4th, at noon for canvassing election results and regular meeting.
